

JOURNEY TO THE END OF THE NIGHT AUSTIN: 3/10/2012

RULES & INSTRUCTIONS

Your goal is to reach the finish line with a stamp from each checkpoint, without being caught by Chasers. You may walk, run, and ride buses. You must go to the checkpoints in order.

At each checkpoint you must find an Agent to stamp your manifest. If you arrive at a checkpoint that has closed, find a stranger to sign your map. All checkpoints close at midnight.

If you are caught (tagged by a Chaser), remove your blue ribbon and give it to the Chaser who caught you. Put on your red ribbon: now your goal is to catch other Runners and collect their ribbons.

Chasers: you can visit the Oakwood Cemetery to be resurrected (one time only) and return to play.

We will award prizes for First Place Runner and Deadliest Chaser at the finish line at south lawn of the Capitol at midnight.

SOME RULES

- The game starts when the air horn blows. Do not leave early.
- Travel by foot or bus only - absolutely no cars, taxis, bikes, etc.
- Your ribbon must be worn visibly on the upper arm at all times. Hiding your ribbon is considered cheating, and is punishable by death.
- Chasers can only tag one Runner at a time.
- You can only become a Chaser by being tagged by a Chaser.
- All tags must be "clean and fair," and made outside of safezones. No disputes will be handled at the finish line. If there is any reasonable disagreement over the fairness of a tag, the Chaser loses.

SAFEZONES: CHASING-FREE AREAS WHERE YOU CANNOT TAG OR BE TAGGED

Each checkpoint is within a safezone (see map). Safezones include both sides of all streets that enclose them. You are also safe while on all buses, and safe while touching bus stop poles.
